Dear Harold:

Enclosed are a few pages from Stone's script, which I now have all of.

You are right, its a piece of shit.

Am making good progress, but seem to get a certain amount of dis or mis-information.

Thanks for your letter. I've never known anyone to dump on me quite the extent that you do. I can understand trying to save me from my own mistakes, but you go a little far. I can think of things that you and others do that are quite as bad.

My heart is with you, though, for what its worth. One cannot be too angry at one's father at this point. I hope that you feel better.

Harry
